BEN FRANKLIN SOCIETY
FUND-RAISING EVENTS

AUGUST 2015

FELLOW SOCIETY MEMBERS -

We again held two events in July - our third Tomato Pie Buffet on Saturday the 18th and Sunday Brunch on the 26th - both SOLD OUT. Thanks to my BreadWorks Team who made these events possible - Sara, April, Tymon, Pat, Linda and Kerry.

Our new Facebook Page found under "BreadWorks at Lynch Creek Farm Cabin" provides convenient online access to our upcoming Schedule of Events and Menus. Also find our Newsletter posted on www.lynchcreek.com

By now, I would hope that everyone understands that we strive to make each event anything but ordinary. You can expect to experience something new each time you attend - the menu, the setting, and the people.

I am really pleased to have booked Jim Smith (from Philadelphia, PA) to play for us. Jim regularly performed at Jack's Firehouse Restaurant (where I trained with Chef Jack McDavid). He's a Julliard School talent and former USA Music Ambassador to Europe. His sound is steeped in Old Time Popular and Swing music from the 20's and 30's.

Our Events are open only to Ben Franklin Society Members. Associate Memberships may be purchased at the door ($15/couple/yr). Remember to B.Y.O.B. - we provide glasses, corkage and mixers. Come and enjoy!

SEPTEMBER 2015 BREADWORKS CALENDAR

In response to the many requests we get about our future BreadWorks schedule, here are our planned September dates: Bob's 5th Outdoor Tomato Pie Buffet with Music, Saturday, September 19th @ 5:00pm and Brunch, Sunday September 27th @ 1:00pm.

QUILT TRAILS OF THE TAR RIVER

With the completion and installation of our Quilt Block, Lynch Creek Farm joins the "Quilt Trails of the Tar River" project of the Franklin County Arts Center (FCAC). The design of our Block mimics an antique, wool quilt we own in both design and coloration thanks to Margaret Hilpert. We have installed our Block on our entrance security gate. Visit http://www.fcacarts.org/quilt_trails_of_the_tar_river.aspx for an overview of the Quilt Trail, or view a video at <http://www.wral.com/wral-tv/video/12658844/>

UPCOMING COLONIAL HEARTH DAY

Our 4th Colonial Hearth Day event is scheduled for Thursday and Friday, October 22-23, 2015 at Peggy McGhee's Farm in Franklinton. We have provided the Franklin County School System a Video prepared from footage shot at last years event and has been hosted on their website. Faculty and students now can view the highlights of the event year-round. We have been awarded a Grant of $2000 by the United Way of Franklin County to defray some of the events cost. Each year we welcome over 200 fourth grade elementary school disadvantaged students to our Educational Field Trip.

FRANKLINTON HIGH SCHOOL COLLABORATION

Thanks to Maria Styers, Culinary Arts Teacher, we have begun to mentor Junior and Senior students by involving them in the workings of BreadWorks Events. In this way, students get "real world" experience in the food service industry. Our first student, Tymon Smith, has been instrumental in the successful delivery of several BreadWorks Events this year. We expect to continue to expand the number and nature of student involvement in our future BreadWorks activities.

UNC-TV FEATURES PEGGY'S HEARTH & GARDEN ON "ALMANAC GARDENER"

UNC-TV aired two 5-minute segments of Peggy's Hearth & Garden on the statewide "Almanac Gardener" show in June. Peggy's Colonial Kitchen Garden was aired on June 13th at noon, and her Colonial Kitchen \(Open Hearth\) was aired on June 20th at noon - thanks to Bill Lord who filmed the footage at Peggy's Farm on October 14, 2014. CIRCA MAGAZINE - BREADWORKS REVIEW

In the 2015 April-May-June Quarterly edition of CIRCA Magazine, The BreadWorks at Lynch Creek Farm was featured in the "Driveable Destinations" column that highlights venues within driving distance of Wake Forest/Wake county, NC. Special thanks to Jennifer Smart with the Wake Forest Historical Museum who penned the article after attending our BreadWorks Sunday Brunch on February 15th, 2015. An updated version is now available at:
